How to Structure Your Article

This is important because then your writing can be organized.

Look at your article and what structure is best: Cause and Effect, Chronological order, Problem and Solution, or inverted pyramid.

Cause and Effect: People write about the cause and effect of the problem. Example for Problem and Solution: People write about the problem and how to solve it. Chronological order: people write in order from what happened first to what happened last. Inverted Pyramid: In the beginning tell where, when, what, and who about the event, middle tell the interesting facts, end with background info. Topic for Cause & Effect: Trash is being dumped into the ocean. You could talk about why it happens and what it does to the ocean.